OLC-ELC

"Don't wait until the fourth Thursday in November to sit with family and friends to give thanks. Make every day a day of Thanksgiving." - Charmaine J. Forde

Thank you to everyone who came out to support the Fall Craft Fair this weekend. We appreciate those who helped and those who attended. Thanks to Janice Dagney for her time and effort and, of course, Donna Martin, for the yummy food.

We surely personify the saying "it takes a village". Please remember to support local businesses.

The four-year-old classes will have their parent/teacher conferences this week. This is a great time to remind parents that their child is such a gift from God and we are blessed to be a part of their journey.

Forty Hours Adoration November 19-21

Rev. George Szparagowski Pastor of St. Philip Neri Parish, Lafayette Hill, Pa. will be the guest Preacher for our 40 hours Devotions which begins next Sunday, November 19, at Our Lady of Consolation Church and concludes on Tuesday, November 21 at 7:00 pm. Devotions each night will begin at 7:00 pm with Benediction and homily from Rev. George Szparagowski.

Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament will begin on Sunday morning, November 19 at the conclusion of 8:00 am Mass up to the closing on Tuesday, November 21 at 7:00 pm.

A procession with the Blessed Sacrament will take place at the closing on Tuesday evening.

Come celebrate the season with a night of music and fellowship! Goodwill donations accepted!

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

“Resplendent and unfading is wisdom, and she is readily perceived by those who love her, and found by those who seek her.” (Wisdom 6:12, 1stReading, 32nd Sunday of Ordinary Time)

These beautiful words that open our First Reading this Sunday from Wisdom are very beautiful, but are a poetic way of exhorting us to something very practical and down to earth: “get your priorities right and use the brains that God gave you!” This is the basic message of the Gospel, as well.

The point of the parable of the Wise and Foolish Virgins at the wedding feast is easy enough for us to grasp: we need to be prepared for that moment when God calls us to meet Him, either at the end of our lives or at the Second Coming of Jesus, should we be still living at His return in glory.

However, sometimes a message can be so simple, so practical or so well known that we actually neglect to take it to heart. Though either event – our personal judgement before God at the end of our lives or the Second Coming of Christ – could happen this very day, we don’t live and act in this expectation. We get caught up with so many other things during the course of our day, or over a period of time, that we put other priorities and concerns ahead of our relationship with God and neighbor and our salvation. Yet, we must look ahead. We must make this our number one priority.

We are not alone if we think that this is a difficult challenge. St. Paul, writing to the Thessalonian Christians around 51 AD, less than 20 years after the Passion, Death, Resurrection and Ascension of our Lord, had to urge them to do the same. They had come to believe that Jesus would return very soon, but then fell into the distractions and busyness of everyday life like all of us do. Paul, himself at that point believing the Lord’s return was imminent (although in later Letters seems to come the conclusion that this may not be so, while still remaining vigilant), encourages them to stay the course of being vigilant, not wavering in putting their salvation as their number one priority and living with expectation.

Thinking ahead and living from day to day in this manner seem to be mutually contradictory, at least at first glance. However, we can reflect on our lives and decisions we’ve made, both good and bad, and see how each day’s actions influence those of the next day. If we strive prayerfully each day, examining our consciences on the choices we have made that day (or more than once a day at times) to see where we are placing our priorities and trying, with God’s grace, to get them right and allowing the Wisdom of God be revealed to us, then we shall be like those wise virgins, open-eyed and alert, who were prepared for the Bridegroom, our Lord, no matter when He may decide to come.

In Christ’s Peace,

Fr. O’Neill
